The recently elected president of the Automobile Club of Washington, Robert B. Caverly, evidently does not intend to content himself with letting affairs take care of themselves, at least so far as automobiling in the Nation's Capital city is concerned. One of the first official acts was to send out a circular letter to all members of the organization, which read in part as follows. "It will be my pleasure to carry out the constitution and by-laws as adopted and to the best of my ability increase the pleasures and privileges of the members in the objects for which the club was originally organized. It will be impossible for any large amount of success to ensue without the hearty co-operation of every member and to this end I avail myself of this opportunity to request each member to advise me fully as to his ideas on the following subjects: "Please give me your suggestions looking to a series of entertainments.

terests dealing with Oriental connec-tions are taking notice.

Mr. Aldrich says that the opponents of the bill will be wise if they accept a compromise whereby the tariff to be as sessed on sugar, tobacco, and rice im-ported from the Philippines shall be if-per cent of the Dingley rates, all other products of the islands to come in free. In other words, Mr. Aldrich means that he himself is willing to accept such a compromise.

Father and Uncle of Student Will Die-Two Others Hurt.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 26-Two men are ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 26—Two men are dying and two boys were, seriously-wounded in a pistol fight last night which grew out of a hazing affair, at the George Normal School. The shooting occurred on the college campus. Lamar Carswell was hazed by students and badly used up. His father, E. L. Carswell, and uncle, W. B. Carswell, with their sons, went to the college campus to redress the wrongs of Lamar. The students drew revolvers and opened fire at the approach of the Carswell family. The father and uncle fell fatally wounded. Lamar Carswell was injured and Fletcher McLeod, a student, was shot in the stomach.
